

Kjell Lind

Inventor and Cashlock CEO

- Is today retired after over 40 years in the IT sector in various senior positions. Currently runs a few small cap and act as CEO for Cashlock AB
- Started after my graduate to be responsible for the maintenance of the operating systems on IBM mainframe computers for different companies and then after a number of years also responsible in the Nordic region, to carry out maintenance / development of software relating to communications between servers / networks.
- Slowley slides over to Project management, programming in the administrative area. Mastery over 15 different programming languages and a variety of different databases.
- Started my first consulting company in the late 70s and won the first order for electronic shackles in Sweden
- Has run several companies in the IT sector, which has had assignments worldwide including the USA, Saudi and UAE.
- The last 10 years Kjell developed systems for the Internet world including mobilephone industry as applications for work order management, financial reporting
- Beside beeing CEO for Cashlock, Kjell is starting up a number of new IT investments.